

University of Phoenix SATE Review Team

Dr. Mary Heller is a Professor & Teacher Education Coordinator/Unit Head at the University of Hawai'i, West O'ahu. Dr. Heller oversees the development and implementation of UHWO elementary, and emerging middle-level and secondary teacher education programs that are especially dedicated to serving the underrepresented populations of Central and Leeward O'ahu. Dr. Heller's area of expertise is the English Language Arts, K-12. Throughout her 25 year career in higher education, Dr. Heller has taught undergraduate and graduate courses, as well as conducted inservice professional development workshops. She has published widely in education journals of national repute, is author of Reading-Writing Connections: From Theory to Practice (Taylor & Francis, 3rd Edition, in progress), and serves as Executive Editor of The Journal of Educational Research. Dr. Heller's current research centers on children's written responses to multicultural literature that is written for and about the diverse populations of Hawai'i.

Dr. Jonathan Gillentine is a National Board Certified Teacher for the Hawai'i Department of Education. He earned his Doctor of Philosophy in 2005 from the University of Hawai'i at Manoa. He presently teaches an early childhood special education class at Benjamin Parker Elementary. Jonathan is the author of several publications. Other Accomplishments include: Co-chair, Standards committee for Literacy Reading/Language Arts, National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education Board of Examiners member, Hawai'i Teacher Standards Board Chair and University of Hawai'i, College of Education, Early Childhood Teacher Education Committee.

Dr. Beth Pateman is Professor and COE Assessment Coordinator in the Institute for Teacher Education, College of Education, University of Hawaii at Manoa (UHM). She received her H.S.D. and M.P.H. from Indiana University, with emphases in school and college health and public health education. Dr. Pateman has taught health education in grades K-8 and at the university level. Before coming to Hawaii, Dr. Pateman worked with the Division of Adolescent and School Health, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, where she served as the CDC Project Officer for the first School Health Policies and Programs Study (SHPPS) in 1994. Dr. Pateman also taught in the School of Public Health, Emory University, and in the Department of Health Science Education, University of Florida. She received the Distinguished Service Award from the American School Health Association in 2000.