Hawaii Teacher Standards Board:

Brigham Young University-Hawaii is submitting a Letter of Intent for the following program:

Special Education Mild/Moderate – K-6 and 6-12

The course was previously offered from prior to our last accreditation in 2006. Students were certified until 2012 when the School of Education's previous administrator decided that the SPED program would not be offered. At the present time, BYUH sees a need for reactivating it.

The reactivation will fill a need for certified Special Education (SPED) teachers in the Hawaii Department of Education as well as serve the children in need of SPED services.

BYU-H would like to thank the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board for their continual support and look for approval to continue the Special Education Mild/Moderate program.

Sincerely,
