GENERAL PROVISIONS

§8-54-1 Statement of purpose. (a) All of Hawaii's public school children deserve to be taught by teachers who are qualified to practice the profession of teaching. The provision of quality education for all public school children is a critical function of state government. The highest standards must be applied to the training of teachers, the screening of applicants for employment and the continued employment of teachers. Teacher standards strengthen the school system's accountability to the public by ensuring that qualified teachers are employed in the public school system.

(b) The purpose of this chapter is to set the standards by which public school teachers shall be licensed and relicensed. These standards shall be established by the Hawaii teacher standards board. [Eff 6/13/97; comp 7/18/98; comp 12/20/01; am and comp 8/13/04; am and comp 10/27/11; am and comp 10/30/14] (Auth: HRS §302A-803) (Imp: HRS §§302A-801 to -808)

The superintendent of the department of education and charter school administrator shall administer the emergency hire process in accordance with applicable provisions in sections 302A-801-808, Hawai'i Revised Statutes and the standards provided in this chapter. TEACHER PERFORMANCE STANDARDS

INTRODUCTION

The board adopted the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) new "core teaching standards" which represent a major revision to the Model Standards for Beginning Teacher Assessment and Development. No longer limited to assessment and support of new teachers, the new standards define standards of professional practice for all teachers.

There are ten individual standards organized into four priority areas:

The Learner & Learning (standards 1-3)
Content (standards 4-5)
Instructional Practice (standards 6-8)
Professional Responsibility (standards 9-10)

Each standard is divided into the areas of performances, essential knowledge, and critical dispositions.

The core teaching standards include a focus on 21st century knowledge and skills; personalized learning for diverse learners; a collaborative professional culture; improved assessment literacy; and new leadership roles for teachers and administrators. The core teaching standards describe what teachers should know and be able to do in today's learning context to ensure students attain these learning goals, as well as encourage teachers to build literacy and thinking skills across the curriculum, and help students address multiple perspectives in exploring ideas and solving problems. The core teaching standards also address interdisciplinary themes and the teacher's ability to build on content that draws upon multiple disciplines.
